What makes a good outdoor speaker cabinet?

Each speaker has an 8-inch woofer that puts out plenty of deep bass, and the sturdy, rock-shaped enclosures aren't prone to the music-marring sympathetic vibrations that some outdoor speaker cabinets suffer. Bluetooth reception was clear even at a distance of 150 feet, which was as far as we could walk without bumping into a neighboring home.

What are outdoor speakers?

Outdoor speakers are for people who want a more permanent audio option for a patio, backyard, or other outdoor space, as opposed to using a portable Bluetooth speaker. Outdoor speakers are weather-resistant, so in most cases you can leave them outside without having to worry about them malfunctioning due to water damage.

Are outdoor speakers good?

Listening tests of outdoor speakers are usually like taste tests of under-$3 wine--you hope for transcendence but are wise to keep your expectations low. That's why it was such a delight to find the Dayton Audio IO8XTB. This speaker sounds great and plays loud.
